EXCITING AUTHORS COMING TO CARTER LIBRARY

DON'T MISS THESE READINGS AND BOOK SIGNINGS

Atlanta, GA. - Anyone interested in history and current events won't want to miss the authors coming to the Carter Presidential Library in June.

Just back from covering the war in Iraq, NBC News correspondent Richard Engel will share his experiences at the Carter Library on Thursday, June 5th at 7 p.m. This free lecture and book signing is co-sponsored by A Cappella Books and the Georgia Center for the Book. In a starred review, Booklist says Engle's War Journal "is required reading for anyone who wants to know what's really going on over there."

On Tuesday, June 17th, former White House aide and Republican speechwriter Kasey Pipes will describe Ike's Final Battle: The Road to Little Rock and the Challenge of Equality. In this free 7 p.m. lecture, Pipes brings an insiders perspective to the Eisenhower presidency during the age of desegregation.

The following Tuesday, June 24th at 7 p.m., the focus will shift to Tibet with two expert authors on the Dalai Lama. Thomas Laird, author of The Story of Tibet and Robert Thurman, author of Why the Dalai Lama Matters will talk about their differing views of the future of Tibet and the modern role of the Dalai Lama. Following the free discussion, both authors will sign copies of their books.
